PRESIDENT CAN PARDON GUILTY OF "CONTEMPT"

Grossman Move by Coolidge Upheld.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—(Special.)—The President possesses unlimited power under the constitution to pardon persons held guilty of criminal contempt of the federal courts, and that power is entrusted to the executive to afford a check on possible judicial injustice.

This is the gist of a decision handed down today by the Supreme court in the case of Philip Grossman of Chicago, who was pardoned by President Coolidge of criminal contempt of the federal district court. The opinion was written by Chief Justice Taft and from which there was no dissent, frankly admitted the wisdom of the provision of the constitution.

How the Case Came Up.

Grossman was sentenced to a year in jail and to pay a fine of $1,000 for contempt of an injunction restraining him from selling liquor. Before he had been committed to jail the President commuted his sentence to the payment of the fine. The district court then precipitated a clash with the executive branch of the government by ordering Grossman to jail, despite the pardon. Grossman appealed to the Supreme court to decide whether he must go to jail, although pardoned. The Supreme court upheld the validity of the pardon and Grossman goes free.

Force of Public Opinion.

The judicial branch is the weakest and "must look for a continuity of necessary cooperation, in the possible reluctance of either of the other branches, to the force of public opinion."

"Executive clemency exists to afford relief from undue harshness or evident mistake in the operation or enforcement of the criminal law," the court's opinion says. "The administration of justice by the courts is not necessarily always wise or certainly considerate of circumstances which may properly mitigate guilt. To afford a remedy it has always been thought essential in popular governments, as well as in monarchies, to vest in some other authority than the courts, power to ameliorate or avoid particular criminal judgments."

Called a Salutary Curb.

"It is a check entrusted to the executive for special cases. To exercise it to the extent of destroying the deterrent effect of judicial punishment would be to pervert it; but whoever is to make it useful must have full discretion to exercise it."

"Our constitution confers this discretion on the highest officer in the nation on confidence that he will not abuse it. An abuse in pardoning criminals would certainly embarrass courts, but it is questionable how much more it would lessen their effectiveness than a wholesale pardon of other offenses. If we could compare up in our minds a President who pardoned criminals with a President who pardoned criminals, we would find that the President ordering a general jail delivery."

Remedy Lies in Impenetrability.

"Exceptional cases like this, if to be remedied at all, would suggest a resort to impeachment that to a narrow and strained construction of the general power of the President."

"The power of a court to protect itself and its usefulness by punishing contumacious is, of course, necessary, but it is one exercised without the restraining influence of a jury and without many of the guarantees which the bill of rights offers to protect the individual against unjust conviction."

Judge Might Be Too Harsh.

"It is unreasonable to provide for the possibility that the personal element may sometimes enter into a summary judgment pronounced by a judge who thinks his authority is invaded or denied."

"May it not be fairly said that, in order to avoid possible mistake, undue harshness, or needless severity, the power of pardon should exist at least in favor of a person convicted by a judge without a jury as in favor of one convicted in a jury trial?"

The pardoning by the President of criminal contempt has been practiced since the three-quarters of a century, and no abuses during all that time have developed sufficiently to invoke a change in the federal courts of its validity.

DEPUTY COOLIDGE GOES TO WASHINGTON TO SEE INAUGURATION

Springfield, Vt., March 2.—(Special.)—John Coolidge, deputy of his father, Col. John Coolidge, will be unable to attend to the duties of his office this week. Omitting to state that he is to witness the inauguration of his son as President, Col. Coolidge said merely, "I am leaving for Washington Monday."

Sherrill Fairbanks, who has been accompanied by the colonel on many missions in the twenty years the latter has served as deputy, characterized the President's father as "a good man to have along."

"He has made a study of his work and is especially effective in serving papers," said the sheriff. "His quiet but firm manner earns him the respect of criminals, and he does not know what fear is."

TEACHER ADMITS PART IN HOLDUPS

Caught After Attempt to Rob Theater.

Edward Fey, 25 years old, a manual training teacher in the Komeny public school, yesterday admitted to the police that he has been leader of a robber gang in his spare time and last Saturday night shot it out with policemen after trying to rob a theater.

Fey's arrest came after two companions, one of them wounded, had been grilled by the police and had confessed. Two women companions of the gunman theater were also arrested.

Rob Lexington Theater.

Discovering that Herman Saperstein, manager of the Lexington theater, 715 South Crawford avenue, did not place the daily receipts in a safe because it had been blown open, but instead used a secret hiding place, Fey, George Porter, a salesman, 2204 West Harrison street, and Stanton Cady, 20, of 639 Gary place, went to the theater late Saturday night.

Porter was left outside in a cab and Fey and Cady entered the theater from an alley entrance. But before they could get the money manager and Porter to the safe, they were caught in the middle of a holdup, and detectives believe they have cleared robberies of more than thirty shoe clothing, and drug stores. A quantity of shoes, clothing, and jewelry has been recovered already.

Two Chauffeurs Taken.

Clarence Bicola, 21 years old, 4923 North Robey street, and Roland Johnson, 21, 1413 Washington boulevard, both chauffeurs, were arrested Saturday as they tried to rob the Newark shoe store at 2548 West North avenue.

Their confessions implicated five others: Carter Scott, 25, 1816 Washington boulevard, and Albert Schiller, 24; Harold Kennedy, 21; William Lynch, 26, and George Moxley, 25, all of 1411 Washington boulevard.

MRS. DAY PLEADS NOT GUILTY; OUT ON $5,000 BONDS

Beverly Hills, Cal., March 2.—Mrs. Bernice L. Day, who was placed in jail shortly after she was released from a Hollywood hospital at which she was treated for poison, today was released under $5,000 bond. She had been arraigned and had pleaded not guilty to a charge of throwing acid into the face of her estranged husband, Darby Day, son of a wealthy Chicagoan. She said the acid was spilled on him when he attempted to prevent her from suicide.

Carlyn Lundstrom, who is accused of assisting her sister, Mrs. Day, in the alleged acid attack, also pleaded not guilty and was released on $1,000 bail.

The preliminary hearing will be on March 16, providing Day, who is recovering from his burns at the home of his mother here, is able to appear.

Darby Day Sr., issued through his lawyer a statement announcing that his son has "determined to let the law take its course, without attempt to influence or desire to interfere."

Miss Vera Gieseler, an employee of the Tinker-Toy factory, in Evanston, was questioned last night by Assistant State's Attorney Clifford J. Bates regarding a party at which her escort, Albert Johnson, is said to have been poisoned.

Johnson, a postal employee of Evanston, she said, drank several glasses of beer with her at the Glenview inn at Glenview, Ill., and then collapsed. He was taken to the Evanston hospital.

Bates said he had reason to believe the beer contained arsenic or a mercury compound. At the hospital it was said Johnson's condition is satisfactory.

JUDGES ARID BY DAY OFTEN WET BY DARK, CLAIM

Sharp Debate Over Proposed Measure.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—Assailing prohibition on the floor of the senate today, Senator Bruce (Dem., Md.) described it as "arbitrary, superficial and without moral sanction."

Senator Bruce's charges were made during an extended debate over the Crampton bill, which proposed the creation of a separate prohibition enforcement bureau. This was urgently demanded by the dry leaders, but they now concede the bill's defeat.

As a result of the violent opposition to the measure, bringing on a determined filibuster, Senator Sterling (Rep., S. D.), dry leader in charge of the bill, announced that it was useless to proceed further.

Says Many Judges Drink.

Senator Bruce charged some members of legislative bodies who voted for prohibition with "drinking when off the floor," and declared there were judges who "sentenced violators of this law to prison during the day and sat down at night to tables loaded with spirits."

Senator Caraway (Dem., Ark.) called on him to name the legislators and judges to whom he referred.

"You know too many now," Senator Bruce replied.

"I disclaim it," Senator Caraway said, "and I wish you would name them."

Regarding "this indefinite charge against the entire judiciary," Senator Caraway asked Senator Bruce and "all other persons" to report any cases of violation of the prohibition law by members of the courts.

"The judge has no choice in this question of prohibition," Senator Bruce retorted, "unless he renounces social life altogether."

Senator Caraway asked if it was not true that prohibition had brought temperance to most of the nation.

"How can I believe it?" Senator Bruce replied, "when I see the steady increase in the number of arrests for drunkenness and in the number of deaths from alcoholism from year to year?"

No Strain on Conscience.

"No law is worth enforcing unless it has moral sanction behind it," he contended, "and while my conscience tells me it is wrong to murder and it is wrong to steal, my conscience does not tell me it is wrong to take a drink."

The defeat of the Crampton bill is a victory for the wholesale druggists, perfumery manufacturers, chemical interests, and other groups of industrial alcohol users which have feared that without the restraining influence of the prohibition commissioner would impose burdensome regulations upon legitimate industries.

John Borden Is to Marry Mrs. Stillwell

John Borden, explorer and sportsman, is to marry Mrs. Courtney Letts Stillwell a week from Saturday in Washington. This was announced yesterday by Mrs. Stillwell's mother, Mrs. Frank C. Letts.

The announcement of the wedding date, constituting also the announcement of the engagement, came as a great surprise to the friends of Mrs. Stillwell and Mr. Borden in Chicago.

It was only last December Mr. Borden was divorced here. Mrs. Stillwell obtained her divorce from Wellesley Stillwell in Paris last spring.

Mr. Borden is one of the wealthiest of the city's younger financiers; his bride is considered one of the cleverest as well as one of the most beautiful women of the Lake Forest community. He is 40 years old and Mrs. Stillwell is some twelve or fourteen years younger.

His First Wife.

Mr. Borden's first wife was Ellen Waller, daughter of the late James Breckenridge Waller. They have two daughters, Ellen, 16 years old, and Mary Elizabeth, 15, each of whom he provided with an income of $25,000 a year at the time of the divorce. Mrs. Borden took nothing in the way of alimony. She retains the residence at Bellevue place and Lake Shore drive.

The Borden-Stillwell wedding is to take place at the Wardman Park hotel in Washington, where Mrs. Letts and her daughter have been staying since before Christmas. Where the Borden will go after the wedding has not been announced, but it is considered likely that he and his bride will carry out the plans he announced for himself a few weeks ago when he left for the east. At that time he said he would spend a few weeks at Alaska, S. C., and then spend the summer in Europe.

Return in Autumn.

Mr. Borden said he expected to return to Chicago in the autumn and take up his residence at his sixty acre place in Lake Forest, just north of the Onwentsia Country club. This he purchased recently from the Delavan Smith estate. Upon it he has laid out his own polo field, covering twelve acres. He also recently bought a town house at 1450 Astor street from Charles Garfield King.

Mr. Borden's favorite sports are polo and yachting. He is one of the keenest polo players in this section. As a yachtsman he achieved renown on two polar expeditions and again during the war, when he converted his Kansas a 415 ton pleasure craft, into one of the swiftest submarine chasers in the American navy.

His Arctic Trips.

Mr. Borden made his first arctic trip in the Adventure in 1912, when he hunted whale. In 1916, in another vessel, the Great Bear, he again ventured on a trip of exploration into the Arctic. This time his ship was wrecked. He and his party were finally rescued by the United States coast guard cutter McCullough.

In 1918 Mr. Borden came into the estate of his grandfather, John Borden, who died at the age of 93. The grandson received $1,800,000, much of it in Chicago real estate. He was one of the founders of the Yellow Cab company and is one of the largest stockholders in these companies.

Mr. Borden has taken a keen interest in stock breeding. He has a plantation of 10,000 or more acres, known as Glenwild, in Mississippi. There he specializes in the breeding of Shorthorn and Hereford cattle and Duroc hogs.

Divorce a Surprise.

The Borden divorce early this winter came as a surprise. Without previous publicity, Mrs. Borden appeared before Judge Sabath; testified that Mr. Borden had thrown a telephone at her once in a fit of anger, and was granted a divorce. She refused alimony for herself. At his death in 1920 her father left her an estate of about $500,000.

Mrs. Stillwell entered society in 1913 and was an instant success. She was married to St. Chrysostom in 1920. She is a strong golfer, able to play with only a small handicap against such strong players as her intimate friend, Edith Cummings. Others of her close friends in the Lake Forest set of her debutante days are Martha Granger, now Mrs. William Mitchell Blair, and Geneva King, now Mrs. W. H. Mitchell.

The real cause of Mrs. Stillwell's divorce, other than general incompatibility, has never been revealed, as it was granted on the technical ground of desertion in Paris. Mrs. Stillwell returned to Chicago last May.

Mrs. Stillwell's sister, Mrs. George McLaughlin Jr., is also in Washington at present. Mr. McLaughlin said last night he knew nothing of the plans for the wedding.

DISCUSS GERMS AS M'CLINTOCK QUIZ NEARS END

McNally Center of Stormy Session.

Q.—When you say Billy McClintock died of typhoid fever that does not of itself say it was an innocent death? A.—It does not.

Q.—Do you know if it was a criminal death or a normal death? A.—Whether it was criminal or not depends on what caused it.

In those questions put to Dr. William D. McNally, coroner's chemist and toxicologist, and his answers at the McClintock inquest yesterday, was summed up the matter to be decided today by the coroner's jury.

The inquest was practically concluded yesterday from the standpoint of Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court, director of the presentation of evidence. In the closing hours of yesterday it was a stormy session.

Fight Over Evidence.

Attorney Edwin Hedrick, representing William D. Shephard, who became dead to $1,000,000 when McClintock died, fought verbally with Judge Olson over the presentation of parts of a statement once made by Shephard. He did his best to tear to shreds the reputation and integrity of Dr. Forberg, who had given evidence to the effect Shephard sought advice on the subject of avoiding detection a hypothetical murder where certain poisons were used or typhoid fever germs administered to the person.

He gave little time to the cross-examination of Mrs. Augusta Lunden, 864 Reba place, Evanston, wife of a dead man. She testified concerning Miss Signa Gustafson, formerly a maid in the Shephard household, who told her McClintock was poisoned by oysters and who thereafter told her Mrs. Shephard had given her considerable money.

Deputy Coroner Charles Kennedy refused to permit Attorney Hedrick to pursue lines of questioning intended to besmirch Dr. Forberg's past. Attorney Hedrick tried desperately, but finally abandoned the attempt in apparent disgust.

McNally at Post-Mortem.

Dr. McNally said he had been physician, chemist, and toxicologist for the coroner eleven years and held the chair of toxicology at Rush Medical college. He said he had participated in the post-mortem examination of the late William McClintock.

His direct examination in part was as follows:

Q.—Are you familiar with the actions of the various poisons? A.—Yes.

Q.—There are certain poisons, traces of which may not be found on post-mortem. A.—Yes, under certain conditions.

Q.—Typhoid is itself a poison? A.—Yes.

He then gave evidence that from the condition described as attending the death of the late Dr. Oscar Olson it was possible he had been poisoned with prussic acid. A post-mortem at this time would show no traces of it, he testified.

Could Not Trace Poison.

He said that one-tenth of a grain of acconine administered with a hypodermic syringe would kill within from three to six hours. It would be practically impossible to detect one-tenth of a grain of acconine distributed in 150 to 175 pounds of body tissue, he declared his expert opinion to be.

Attorney Hedrick cross-examined him.

NEVER SIGNS CAR BILL; SAYS IT IS SURE FIRE PLAN

Better Transit on Way, He Declares.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

"The most beautiful feature of the transportation ordinance is that it will give transportation," said Mayor Dever yesterday.

"It will supply more transportation, better transportation, more rapid transportation, more comfortable transportation, and more adequate transportation. Don't ever lose sight of that primary point. The ordinance will provide you a transit system that will get you there and bring you back in the least time and with the most comfort."

"While every sort of a criticism is being suggested, no responsible person has said that the ordinance will not supply urgently needed transit facilities. It will give transportation because the plan can be financed on the conditions laid in the ordinance. No one has disputed that. No one can successfully dispute it. No one will attempt to dispute it who has a reputation worth maintaining."

Criticism Not Financial
"Perhaps certain persons will attempt to raise a doubt about it, but I predict that none of these will have any standing as a financier. No critic of that sort has ever raised the money for any large project. How can a man be taken as an authority on scores of millions if he has never handled one million? The leading bankers of Chicago have assured us that the program can be financed on the foundations laid in the ordinance."

"They constitute the best authority available on that subject. The bank is referred to are Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank; John J. Mitchell, head of the Illinois Merchants bank, and A. W. Harris, head of the Harris Trust and Savings bank."

"The word of any one of them commands the faith of any citizen. The recommendation of all three of them, after months of study, is convincing to say fair minded person interested in the welfare of Chicago. In the day of their opinion no one, however, wise and designing, has had the nerve to say that the program will not supply Chicago with adequate transit facilities."

No Increase in Fares.
"This will be done without increasing the fare and without creating a liability against the taxpayers. It can be done and will be done with a decrease in the fares. Can any reasonable and reasoning person ask more for a transit ride? Always remember the plan will give rapid, more, and better transportation. It will give it as soon as it is possible to obtain it."

The mayor signed the ordinance yesterday afternoon in the presence of Ald. Woodhull, Pick, Eaton, and Schwartz, Corporation Counsel Busch, Special Attorneys Sexton and Frank, Committee Engineer Kelker, and Harold Crotty of the city clerk's office. There is so much popular interest in the subject that a motion picture concern recorded the signing on a film for general distribution.

The mayor and his aide decided to establish a downtown headquarters from which information will be distributed.

Vacations Slow Up Work.
Some of the proponents of the ordinance were inclined yesterday to permit the subject of transit facilities to Scarsborough, N. Y., March 2.—Frank A. Vanderlip, widely known banker, who has been ill several weeks at his country home in Scarsborough, recently contracted pneumonia, it was learned today.

He first had an attack of influenza followed by typhoid fever. Mr. Vanderlip was recuperating from that when pneumonia set in.

"Mr. Vanderlip is on the mend," said Dr. Norman Barnesby, "and is doing as well as can be expected. He had been a pretty sick man."

The mayor signed the ordinance yesterday afternoon in the presence of Ald. Woodhull, Pick, Eaton, and Schwartz, Corporation Counsel Busch, Special Attorneys Sexton and Frank, Committee Engineer Kelker, and Harold Crotty of the city clerk's office.

Scientist Eats Boiled Microbes to Test Poisons

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, March 1.—In order to discover the action of food poisons on the human stomach Bruce White, young English scientist at Bristol university, tonight drank the contents of a test tube filled with boiled microbes. His recent studies of food adulteration were balked when he was unable to find subjects willing to submit to experiments, so he decided to make tests on himself, despite the chance of death, by swallowing germs such as poison impure foods. He will be held under a doctor's observation constantly until the result is known.

FIND 7 KILLED IN CANADA BY QUAKE FELT IN CHICAGO

Restored Wires Tell of Temblors' Toll.

Quebec, Que., March 2.—[Special.]—The earthquake which shook the eastern half of the United States, including Chicago, Saturday night, is charged with seven deaths in Quebec and the St. Lawrence river district of Canada. One death was in this city. Five occurred at points along the south shore of the St. Lawrence, where people are reported to have been killed either from shock or from falling chimneys. The seventh was at St. Anne de la Paroisse, about seventy miles from here, where an aged woman died from shock. Restored lines of communication are just beginning to bring in the story of the quake's toll.

The point where the quake is believed to have been most severe is at St. Paul's bay, sixty miles below Quebec, where the earth is reported to have "shimmed" for twenty-five minutes, but elsewhere the duration of the earthquake is variously reported between twenty-five seconds and three minutes.

Church Is Wrecked.
The Roman Catholic church there was wrecked and many homes were demolished.

The Palais station in Quebec was badly damaged. A section of the interior of the roof fell in.

There were five distinct shocks experienced in Quebec, while at Chicoutimi there were no less than fifteen tremors reported.

Blames Quake for Ohio Death.
Newark, O., March 2.—[By Associated Press.]—Saturday night's earthquake caused one death in Newark, according to a death certificate filed at the office of the health commissioner here today. Mrs. Orrel Smith, 29, died early Sunday morning. The certificate filed by the physician states that her death was due to acute endocarditis, giving as contributory cause "frightening by earthquake, causing shock."

Mrs. Smith had been ill for some time.

Phenomenon of New Quake.
Frasno, Italy, March 2.—[United News.]—Prof. Bendant, who predicted the earthquake that shook the north-east quarter of the United States Saturday night, announces that another quake occurred today. Seismograph traces in the professor's laboratory traced the record of a two hour seismic disturbance, focused about 5,000 miles from central Italy. The shocks were violent.

Prices realized on Swift & Company sale of carcass beef in Chicago for week ending Saturday, Feb. 28, on shipments sold out, ranged from 7.00 cents to 20.00 cents per pound and averaged 11.00 cents per pound—Adm.

Find Quake Center

The earthquake which was felt over all the eastern part of the United States on Saturday night had its center near the confluence of the St. Lawrence and Saguenay rivers in Canada. Reports from Quebec state the shaking was severe and that shocks continued. There has been loss of life and considerable property damage. This region of Canada is noted as the oldest land in America, in a geological sense, and possibly in the world. Its rocks are all igneous and the world's young geologists believe that its quakes and volcanoes had no rivals.

GIRL PICTURES TRIAL LIMPS IN LAW OFFICE

Clients with personal injury suits against railroads were instructed in how to limp by Attorney William Wallace McCallum and his brother, James A. McCallum, according to Miss Marguerite De Long, 5704 Westworth avenue, former secretary to the McCallums, who testified yesterday in the investigation being conducted by Judge Harry Fisher into the case of D. J. Scanlan, alias Donahue, the supposed patient in the case.

Donahue brought suit against the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, charging personal injuries. Attorney McCallum represented him.

Miss De Long said many clients, feigning injuries, discarded their canes and crutches while talking to the McCallums in their office, but used them on the street. Once, she testified, when a client named Arthur King complained because his suit had been lost, McCallum told him: "It's your own fault. You couldn't walk convincingly enough."

Indict Four for Murder of Express Guard
Four men were indicted yesterday at Waukegan for the murder of Russell Sage Dickey, express messenger on the Viking express of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, slain Dec. 30 in trying to defend a strong box.

One of those indicted is Bernard Smith, a former policeman here. The others are Ralph Morris McKee of Chicago and Bernard Mylin and Edward Smith of Milwaukee. Mylin is accused of firing the fatal shot.

Indictments for larceny and robbery were also returned against the four.

JAPANESE HOUSE PASSES VOTE ACT DURING UPROAR

Fist Fighting as Suffrage Bill Is Debated.

TOKIO, March 2.—[United News.]—Amid uproar and fist fighting, the Japanese house of representatives passed the universal manhood suffrage bill a few minutes before midnight Monday. The bill now goes to the peers, where opposition to it will be great.

The scenes accompanying the adoption of the measure were without precedent. All visitors to the diet building were searched for weapons by guards so that none might attempt to shoot a legislator.

Fists flew all over the place as the bill was introduced. Finally the speaker called for a standing vote and declared that the majority favored the bill. The house then adjourned to cool off.

PRESENT ELECTION LAW.
The present electorate qualifications provide that only men more than 25 years old who have lived in the same electoral district for more than six months and who have been paying more than three yen in direct national tax for more than a year are enfranchised. Under this law about 3,000,000 persons are eligible to vote.

The new bill removes the property qualifications and enfranchises all male citizens over 25 years with the exception of those convicted of certain crimes. The electorate will be increased about 13,000,000, unless the condition of self-dependence is imposed. This provision would reduce the number of voters to 9,600,000.

The new bill will enfranchise heads of noble families, who are deprived of a vote under the present election laws.

May Seek Office at 25.
The new bill will make a number of drastic changes in the provisions relating to eligibility for election. Now only men of more than 30 years old are eligible to run for office, while the new law lowers the age limit to 25 years.

At present, heads of noble families, students of government, public and private schools; primary school teachers, priests and other religious teachers and contractors for government works are not eligible for political office. The new suffrage bill removes this disqualification. The new law makes government and public officials eligible for office immediately after resignation, while the present law forbids them from running until three months after resignation.

DIRIGIBLES HAVE MORE VALUE IN PEACE THAN WAR

But Government Subsidy Is Indispensable.

ARTICLE II.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—[Special.]—Although the most enthusiastic supporters of lighter than air transportation concede that the future of the dirigible lies more in the field of commerce than in its value as an instrument of war, it is extremely doubtful if an airship line could be made a paying proposition at the present time without government aid.

The British are building two dirigibles of 5,000,000 cubic feet capacity each, to be used in the passenger and mail service to India and Australia. They have figured out on paper that these can be made to show a profit.

The ships will not be delivered until July 1, 1926, however, and the profits have been said to be merely on paper. Experts at the navy department are now making similar estimates for a proposed trans-Atlantic service. The preliminary figures are not encouraging.

Can't Compete with Trains.

First of all, a dirigible can enter into only one form of competition with hope of success, based on its present performance, and that is in water transportation. The cruising speed of a dirigible is not such as to permit it to compete against express trains, especially over mountainous territory. That is, the difference in time of the two modes of travel would not compensate for the high tariff that would have to be charged by the airship.

For speed and for short distances the airplane is far superior.

But there is a field for the dirigible over water or over a long land and water route. The dirigible travels faster than the fastest ocean liners and provides a much more comfortable ride. It would be possible, for instance, for a dirigible to cut down the time between Chicago and Berlin by more than half. Four days would be a generous allowance for that trip under favorable weather conditions, even for the ships now in use.

Would the Thing Pay?

But whether such a service would pay is another question. A few wealthy passengers might make the trip as a sporting adventure and some mail might be carried, but experiences with the airplane along this line have not been encouraging. Most schemes for airplane transportation have been given up for lack of patronage and even a consistent and reliable service as the transcontinental air mail, a service unequalled in the world, has been a losing proposition.

Rear Admiral Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics of the navy, is one of those who believe lighter-than-

Air craft will be used commercially sooner than heavier-than-air craft.

Is Feasible Now, He Says.

"Some things I say about it may seem too rosy," he said, "but I think lighter-than-air craft can be used commercially now."

As to the prospect of the commercial use of dirigibles, the special naval board had only this to say in its report:

"The difficulties at present lie in the small amount of useful or pay load they can carry in addition to the necessary weights of fuel, equipment, and personnel. This country is fortunate in its ability to employ helium instead of hydrogen as its lifting medium, thereby insuring greater safety in operation, but reducing the lifting power 10 per cent with a consequent reduction of cruising radius of 25 per cent."

Despite such accidents as that which attended the Roma here and other dirigibles abroad, airship navigation is comparatively safe, as evidenced by figures compiled in Germany, where only hydrogen has been used.

The German Experience.

During the last fifteen years eight of their ships have made a total of 1,691 trips, covering 140,000 miles in 2,708 hours, without serious mishap.

Between 1911 and 1914 one fleet of five ships carried 34,223 passengers—mostly on sight seeing flights—a distance of 107,280 miles in 1,588 hours.

All this was accomplished without loss of life or injury to a single passenger. Airship navigation is considered so safe in Germany at the present time that pilots are insured at ordinary premium rates.

So it would seem it is not the question of safety but the immense cost of construction, maintenance, and operation of dirigibles that is the principal drawback to their successful operation on a commercial basis.

Original Cost Is High.

First, there is the initial cost of construction. The Shenandoah cost $2,950,000, but could be duplicated for less. The navy estimates a 6,000,000-cubic foot ship could be constructed at a cost of $1 per cubic foot, or $6,000,000. If four are built at the same time they could be constructed for $4,000,000 each.

Admiral Moffett doubts the claim of the British that they will build their 5,000,000 cubic foot ships at a cost of 25 cents a foot, but estimates the cost in this country might be brought as low as 10 cents a cubic foot.

A complete set of gas cells for the Shenandoah cost $150,000 alone. They are made of goldbeaters' skin and rubberized fabric which is "doped" and varnished. The navy is experimenting now to find a less expensive substitute, as the life of these cells is placed at about three years.

What the Engines Come To.

The engines for the Shenandoah cost about $30,000 and $40,000 and the outer cover, which lasts only one year, costs $25,000.

It is estimated that a hangar would cost now about $2,600,000. A mooring mast costs $75,000. For a trans-Atlantic line there would have to be hangars at each end of the trip, as well as a mooring mast and several masts in between, either on ships or islands, for emergency purposes.

The navy estimates that to start a transatlantic service within three ships the initial outlay would be between $17,000,000 and $18,000,000. Figuring that on each trip each ship would carry 80 per cent of its capacity load of passengers and mail, it has estimated that, based on a sliding tariff running as high as $1,500 per passenger and 20 cents an ounce for mail, the line "might be made to pay anywhere from 1 to 10 per cent on the investment after three years." These figures are based on a depreciation of 33.3 per cent of the initial annual-ally—that is, placing the life of a ship at three years.

Second Item Also High.

Then there is the life cost of maintenance. For the Lakehurst station this charge amounted to $1,200,000 for 1924. It requires the help of between 300 and 400 men to take up a dirigible the size of the Shenandoah in and out of the hangar, and it must be placed in the hangar to undergo repairs. Only minor repairs can be made at the mooring mast. A ship like the Los Angeles carries a crew of thirty. The Shenandoah, on its trip across the continent and back, carried forty-one.

Used to be a great loss due to valving the helium, but this has been overcome to a great extent by the invention of the water recovery system, through which water ballast is manufactured by the exhaust of the motors to an even greater weight than that of the gasoline used.

Little Loss of Helium.

It used to be that as the fuel supply grew lighter, helium would have to be discharged to keep the ship from continually rising, but the weight can now be equalized through the water recovery system. Except for valving, which water ballast is manufactured by the exhaust of the motors to an even greater weight than that of the gasoline used.

As for gasoline, the Shenandoah uses one gallon per mile at a speed of forty miles an hour. Regulation aviation gas is used, which costs about 3 cents more than ordinary motor fuel. Helium is being manufactured by the government and transported at a cost of about $50 or $55 per 1,000 cubic feet.

Still greater discoveries may be made in reducing the necessary weight of the ships in order that the pay load might be increased. The weight of the machinery used in the water recovery system already has been reduced.

Special Designs Necessary.

Admiral Moffett makes it clear that a dirigible must be designed especially for the length of the route as is to cover in the commercial field.

Asked as to how great a load in freight, mail, and passengers, exclusive of fuel, crew and other necessary weights, the Shenandoah and the Los Angeles could carry on a trans-Atlantic flight, Admiral Moffett admitted the Shenandoah could carry none and the Los Angeles only about five tons, "depending upon weather conditions and mooring mast installations."

The British have calculated they can obtain a return of 24.35 per cent on an investment of $2,000,000 with their ships, without making allowance for mail and figuring on only 50 per cent of the passenger capacity. The navy estimated some time ago that the cost of operating the Los Angeles on a basis of 160,000 miles covered a year—the equivalent of eighty trips between

New York and Panama—would be $743,000.

The distance between New York and Panama is 1,840 nautical miles, while the distance between New York and London is 2,900 miles. Adding 50 per cent for base charges, each New York-Panama trip would cost $14,300 and each New York-London trip $21,400.

Figuring the trips at full capacity of twenty passengers at $1,500 each and 24 tons of mail and packages at $4,300, a net profit on paper of $2,900 a trip was shown for the Atlantic voyage. Assuming that fifty-two trips could be made a year the profit, with full load each trip, would be $151,000 or 5 per cent on $3,000,000, which represents the cost of the ship and "a reasonable share of the base costs."

The navy also claimed some time ago that a ship of 6,000,000 cubic feet capacity, making forty round trips a year across the Atlantic with a capacity load, would show a profit of $4,854,000. But these figures are all being revised now.

MILES PAINTS A VIVID PICTURE OF NIGHT AIR RAIDS

Says U. S. Is Exposed on Both Its Coasts.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
Washington, D. C., March 2.—(Special.)—Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles (retired), veteran of the civil, Indian, and Spanish-American wars and the general commanding in the last of the three, came before the congressional committee this evening with a request for a secret session for the hearing of confidential testimony on the vulnerability of the United States to air attack by sea and western powers and the conservation in the army.

He requested was granted. Deems His Remarks Vital. "I have made my request for secret," said the lieutenant general to the trustees, "because I feel that what I have to say is so important that it is a few hours my testimony would be to France and Japan."

A part of the committee did not consider it necessary to preserve secrecy in the Miles testimony. It contained these outstanding sentences: "The people are apprehensive as to the vulnerability of the country to attack by aircraft."

"The eyes of San Francisco are turned to the west. The eyes of New York and Boston are turned to the east. From both east and west attack by air force is possible."

"An enemy from the east would not descend on New York or Boston directly. World Unleash Many Planes. Such an enemy would bring large numbers of airplanes on ships to a point within striking distance of our coast."

"They would be released at night. Their immediate objective would be the great port cities. On the contrary, they would sweep in upon the unprotected area, more than 200 miles wide, lying between New York and Boston on the north, or between New York and Fort Monroe on the south."

"The invasion would be swift and direct, and the enemy would wait until night to make it." On his theme of "army conservatism" he was equally outspoken. As illustrating that quality, he went into what he described as "the trials and tribulations" of Prof. Samuel Pier

GOV. NELLIE ROSS HERE, TALKS ONLY OF HER CHILDREN

Politics Taboo on Stop En Route to Capital.

Neither clothes nor politics would the governor of Wyoming discuss yesterday when interviewed by her here. So Nellie Tayloe Ross, America's first woman governor, during the few hours she spent between trains in Chicago marked herself an unusual woman and an unusual politician.

Herself a Democrat, she showed a kinship to the Republican presence whose inauguration she will attend by her laconic replies to the clouds of questions hurled at her as she stepped from her train.

No Brass Bands for Her. No sycophants, no ward bosses, no secretaries, and no brass bands met her as she left the Overland Limited at the northwestern station. Only Mrs. John D. Clark, 325 Fullerton parkway, who has been a friend of plain Mrs. Ross for many years, was on hand to guide her friend in a shopping expedition through the loop between trains.

And even the shopping was a limited affair, being more a matter of looking about than of buying finery, for the governor of Wyoming considers western styles as suitable to her as the finery she might find in Chicago.

Of Politics—Nothing. "Politics—no," said the governor. "My children—yes. I can tell you all about them. I don't mind discussing them any time with any one. The twins, George and Ambrose, 21 years old, are students in the University of Wyoming. My youngest, William Bradford, 12 years old, who was named after his father, is at home."

Mrs. Ross was elected to succeed her husband, Gov. William Bradford Ross, who died just before completing a term as chief executive of Wyoming.

U. S. BATTLE FLEET WEIGHS ANCHORS FOR MIMIC WAR

Sails from San Diego to Meet "Enemy."

ABOARD U. S. S. SEATTLE, March 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—One hundred and ten vessels of the United States navy tonight are embarked upon the beginning of a game of war off the coast of Mexico. It is the first step in the greatest series of peace time naval maneuvers ever held in the Pacific and which will extend through March and April. The naval forces stationed on the Pacific coast, known as the battle fleet, tonight are in the role of an enemy fleet, intent upon invasion of the Pacific coast.

As the fleet left the harbor the destroyer Robert Smith rammed the aircraft tender Langley. Neither was badly damaged.

The speedy craft of the scouting fleet, based on the Atlantic but en route to San Pedro for the beginning in April of the cruise to the Hawaiian Islands and Australia, have become the defensive force of the United States for this problem. The invading fleet is known as the black fleet and the defensive forces as the blue fleet.

Black Fleet Is Invader. In a purely naval sense, the problem is provided to make strategic use of the trip of the scouting fleet to this coast for participation in the army navy maneuvers off Hawaii.

Should it succeed in reaching this point with effective fighting and supply units, it will win the problem and determine the vulnerability of the coast.

To Save Supply Ships. The black fleet's movement is primarily a concentrated movement of force to get to a particular point which it has determined upon. Its function is to scout against enemy attack and save its supply ships. However, its movement is not rapid, for it can travel no more speedily than its slowest unit, and its main force of battle effectiveness must concentrate as a shield around the supply train.

The blue fleet is a fleet of mobility and action. Its mission is to seek out, intercept, and destroy the black fleet. It must scout over hundreds of miles of territory, locate the black fleet, and then concentrate its power of battle to cope with the invader and destroy him.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD ON MARCH 6

Washington, D. C., March 2.—(Special.)—Secretary of War Weeks announced today that the anti-aircraft gunnery tests at which members of congress will be given an opportunity to see what the arches could do to a fleet of invading airplanes will be held March 6 at Fort Monroe.

More than fifty members of congress and other officials have said they would attend.

The tests, which grew out of the charges made against the state of the national defense by Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, will be observed by members of the house committee which has been investigating aircraft and both the house and the senate military committees.

An elaborate schedule of events have been arranged by the chief of coast artillery, who will supervise the tests. The principal event will be held in the afternoon. Friday, when the anti-aircraft guns at Fort Monroe will fire at targets towed by aircraft.

Later specially designed three inch rifles will be tried out with new fire control devices. In the evening an exhibition of anti-aircraft night firing will be held.

desavors of business, transportation, and the government may be coordinated into a workable unit.

The gathering was addressed by Secretary Weeks and Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, chief of staff, who outlined the defense plans tentatively mapped out by the department and the part assigned to transportation and business agencies.

Secretary Weeks emphasized the vital need of transportation to the national defense and explained that armed force depended for its effectiveness on movement, "an indispensable element of war."

WEEKS ASKED BY DOWNSTATE TO O. K. LEVEES

Secretary of War Weeks was asked yesterday in event of granting Chicago a permit to withdraw 8,500 cubic feet of water from Lake Michigan that he endorse congressional action regulating construction of levees on the Illinois river, in a letter addressed to him jointly by Congressmen William E. Hull and Henry T. Rainey.

They further ask that Secretary Weeks express hope that congress will take some action to require the southern district to adjust claims of landowners for damage to their lands due to overflow of the river.

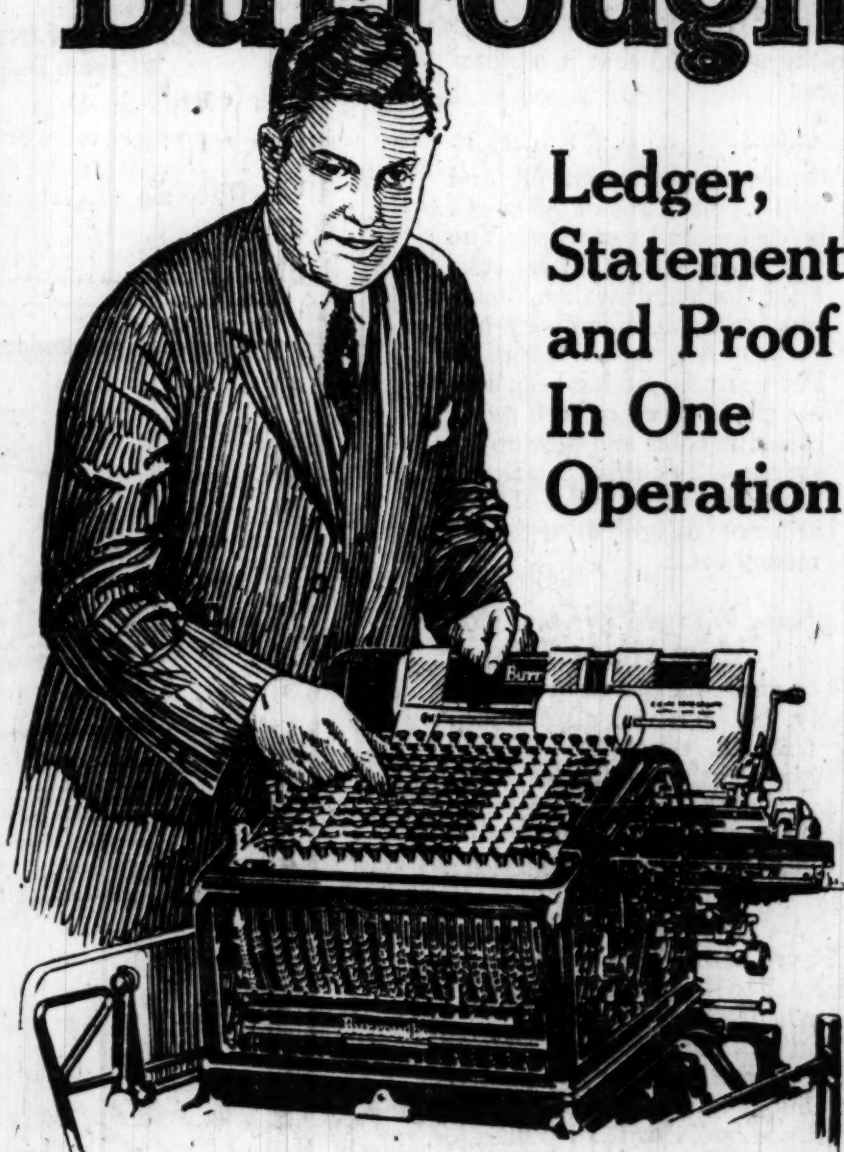

"If you adopt the suggestion of the engineers, may we not ask that you refer in any opinion you may render to the rights of the Illinois river valley and to your inability to adjust these equities," the letter read.

ASK GIRLS RELEASE TODAY. Attorney William B. Sattel will appear before Judge Jacob Hopkins this morning to attempt to obtain the release of Rose L. Petro, 17 years old, on bail. The girl killed her father, John, last week in their home at 1113 Blue Island avenue.

Famous Hostesses of All Times

(Eighth of a Series)

Lady Hervey
From a famous portrait

Lady Hervey (Molly Lepell), born in the first year of the eighteenth century, distinguished for her wit and beauty at the Court of Caroline, Princess of Wales, was hostess to the rank and fashion of society at her London residence. French fashions pleased her fancy greatly, and Horace Walpole was much amused when she introduced from Paris the ancestor of the modern bouquet-holder—a tin funnel, covered with ribbon and filled with water to keep the flowers fresh.

WHEN Miss Dutton introduced the fashion of good food in generous portions at moderate prices, she became immediately Chicago's most favored hostess. Small wonder that more than four million patrons partake of her hospitality each year. May she count you her guest today? And may she suggest that by coming for luncheon at 11 or shortly thereafter you will precede the heaviest noontime patronage?

LIQUOR WARRANT NOT NECESSARY TO SEARCH AUTO

Washington, D. C., March 2.—Federal prohibition agents may lawfully stop automobiles and other vehicles and search them for contraband liquor without a warrant, the Supreme court decided today.

In another liquor case decision, brought from Georgia by Sig Samuels, the court held that states may, under the constitution, make unlawful the possession of liquor acquired legally before enactment of the federal prohibition act.

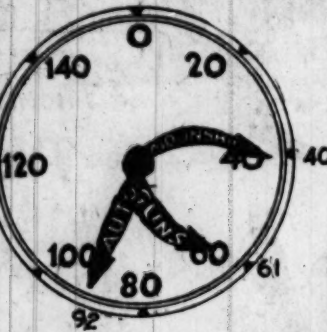

Chief Justice Taft delivered the opinions in both cases. Justices McReynolds and Sutherland dissenting in the former and Justice Butler in the latter.

Different from House.
Declaring that "it would be intolerable and unreasonable if a prohibition agent were authorized to stop every automobile on the chance of finding liquor, and thus subject all persons lawfully using the highways to the inconvenience and indignity of such a search," Chief Justice Taft asserted that "those lawfully within the country entitled to use the public highways have a right to free passage without interruption or search unless there is known to a competent official authority that search probable cause for believing that their vehicles are carrying contraband or illegal merchandise."

It was the intent of congress, however, to make a distinction between the necessity for a search warrant in the searching of private dwellings and of automobiles, the chief justice stated, and that distinction was constitutional.

Evidence Can "Escape."
"The guaranty of freedom from unreasonable searches and seizures has been construed, practically since the beginning of the government," he explained, "as recognizing a necessary difference between a search of a store, dwelling house, or other structure in respect of which a proper official warrant readily may be obtained, and a search of a ship, motor boat, wagon, or automobile for contraband goods, where it is not practicable to secure a warrant because the vehicle can be quickly moved out of the locality or jurisdiction in which the warrant must be sought."

WIVES TREATING MATES ROUGHER, U. S. FIGURES SAY

Cruelty Wins Fourth of Divorces Men Get.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Women appear to be developing into the rougher sex—such is the story spun by the divorce statistics just issued by the census bureau.

Cruelty now has become the leading cause for domestic smashups. In 1923 it figured in more than one-third of all divorces. Desertion used to be the predominant cause, up to at least 1916. Among the interesting revelations in the increase, among divorces granted to husbands in 1922 set up grounds of cruelty, as against 17.4 per cent in 1916. Of the divorces granted to wives in 1922, however, the charge in 39 per cent of the cases, but in 1916 it was running 23 per cent.

The number of divorces granted to husbands for cruelty was more than twice as large in 1922 as in 1916, while the number granted to wives for cruelty increased 58 per cent.

This apparent growth among the gentler sex of the household pastime of treating the husband rough—if the divorce courts are any index—formed a somewhat interesting sequel to the Chicago convention of economists and sociologists during the Christmas holidays. There two savants announced two important alleged discoveries. One was that man is the weaker vessel and the female of the species the stronger sex.

Woman More Independent.
The other was that man no longer wears the breeches in his own home. The academicians who propounded that argued that the new freedom of woman has upset masculine dominance in the household by diminishing the economic advantage in marriage through the growing financial independence of woman.

Of course, to get back to divorces, one always has to remember that the causes set up often are ostensible instead of actual. The legal cause shown by the court record may not be the real cause underlying the action for divorce.

The census study classifies the causes under a few broad heads as follows: Adultery, cruelty, desertion, drunkenness, neglect to provide, combinations of these five causes, and all other causes.

The figures for 1922 show a decrease

DAVIS, DEMOCRACY'S HOPE OF 1924, OUT OF POLITICS, HE SAYS

Washington, D. C., March 2.—John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for President in the last national election, visited the senate press gallery today as a "plain lawyer," and chatted with the correspondents there, some of whom had accompanied him through the campaign.

Mr. Davis asserted flatly that he was a "out of politics," although he intended to devote whatever capacity he might have in that line, "in the future, as in the past, to the Democratic party."

Nothing could be more futile, he said, than a discussion of candidates four years hence. Party conferences at this time, he thought, should be confined to discussion of ways and means and to perfecting the organization, with the party so conducting itself, in the meantime, "as to gain public confidence."

In the proportion of divorces granted for adultery, desertion, and drunkenness, and an increase in the proportion granted for cruelty and neglect to provide.

In recent years, the increase in cruelty as a cause has been especially large. For one thing it appears to be a cause which is becoming more and more easy to establish in the divorce mills, while it often glosses over something else more reprehensible.

Booze and Divorce Suits.
As to drunkenness as a legal cause, it was reduced 58 per cent in 1922 as against 1916. But in 1922, although it was the third year of Volstead, there still were granted 1,536 divorces for drunkenness, as against 2,652 in 1916. Prohibition is hard pressed to find a crumb of real comfort here, for the fact is that never since 1887 has drunkenness been the legal cause in more than 4 per cent of all divorces.

Drink as a breaker of families was painted as a great contributor to the disrupting of households for cruelty, desertion, neglect to provide, adultery and other causes, as well as habitual drunkenness, and to deport the demon rum, it was argued, would decrease the divorce evil.

Despite prohibition, however, the number of divorces was 31 per cent greater in 1922 than in 1916.

Many Brief Marriages.
The childless marriage is increasing in the divorce court, as are the marriages of less than one year's duration, and marriages that have lasted less than five years.

In 1922, out of 147,775 divorces, 50,215 reported dependent children and 82,819 reported no children. In 1916, when 108,700 divorces were reported, 41,090 had children and 56,600 reported no children. In both years several thousand cases did not report on this phase.

Cases where children are reported are more frequent in divorces granted to the wife than in cases where the divorce is granted to the husband.

Nothing could be more futile, he said, than a discussion of candidates four years hence. Party conferences at this time, he thought, should be confined to discussion of ways and means and to perfecting the organization, with the party so conducting itself, in the meantime, "as to gain public confidence."

In the proportion of divorces granted for adultery, desertion, and drunkenness, and an increase in the proportion granted for cruelty and neglect to provide.

Be Happy

Make every day a joy.
A sparkle in your morning drink will do that.

Don't lose a day by dullness or unfitness. Don't suffer blue days when they can be sunny. All the difference lies in the way you start them. This is what to do. Drink a glass of water upon rising, hot or cold. That washes out the stomach—prepares the way for breakfast.

Add to that water a little Jad Salts. That makes a delightful, effervescent drink. Jad Salts are made from acids of lemon and grape, combined with lithia.

In one hour comes elimination of the poisons which depress. Of that clogging which makes you unfit. The experience is delightful. It is bringing millions of joyous days to people who employ it.

Just a fine drink before breakfast means a day at your best. Go try it. All druggists have Jad Salts. And you will never forget the day you first employ them.

ORDERS FOR $1.00 INSURANCE FLOOD TRIBUNE OFFICE

Begin Sending Policies to Readers Today.

Insurance policies, based upon THE TRIBUNE's new plan of public service in this field, will begin to go out today to those who have mailed their applications and the $1 registration fee. The Tribune's mail order was stamped yesterday. The response to this unprecedented offer of a $1,500 accident policy, good for one year, made to all readers of THE TRIBUNE, was greater than had been anticipated.

Fifteen hundred persons called at THE TRIBUNE's public service bureau, 11 South Dearborn street, yesterday to take advantage of this opportunity. Many of these brought two or three applications for members of their families. Only one policy will be issued to each person.

A special force of clerks was engaged to handle this business and policies of the Federal Life Insurance company of Chicago will be sent out to the applicants just as soon as the names can be checked and the necessary forms written.

Insured Immediately.

Here is an important thing to remember. Whether your policy is delivered promptly or not, you are insured for $1,500 the moment your application reaches THE TRIBUNE's desk and is stamped by the cashier.

Back of this policy are the millions of the Federal Life Insurance company, 163 North Michigan boulevard. This company has been in business for twenty-five years and has assets of $260,000. It has paid out to policyholders and beneficiaries since its organization more than $10,000,000. Every legitimate claim will be paid promptly.

It is not necessary to subscribe for THE TRIBUNE in order to obtain this insurance.

Application blanks will be printed in THE TRIBUNE daily and Sunday for a limited time. Cut one out today, fill in the form, and send it in to THE TRIBUNE, Tribune Square, Chicago, and this newspaper will do the rest. A registration fee of $1 must accompany each application.

The policies are renewable at the end of the first year on payment of an additional fee of $1. At the end of the year they increase 10 per cent in value. The policy given in this way is the most liberal ever offered to the public. Its weekly indemnity for lost time, in the event of disability by accident, is $10 a week for fifteen weeks. This is double that offered in other policies.

Dangerous Jobs Not Excluded.

Those who operate public carriers, as well as those who ride in them, are eligible to the policy. Bus drivers, taxi cab drivers, street car motormen and conductors, as well as policemen and firemen, and others whose calling is dangerous and who are excluded in other policies, will be taken in under this protection.

The payment is $1,500 for loss of life in a motor vehicle, $10,000 if life is in an accident in a private vehicle, and $1,000 for loss of life due to being struck while on a public highway. The policy carries many other features which are shown in a reproduction of the terms on another page of this newspaper.

WARMER, WETTER FOR INAUGURAL; CROWDS ARRIVING

Flags and Bunting Are Out Everywhere.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—(Special.)—The rush of visitors to the inauguration of President Coolidge started slowly today, speeded up a trifle tonight and is expected to set in strong tomorrow. There is even now a hint of the bustle and turmoil that is Washington's experience every four years.

Owing to the desire of the White House that simplicity characterize every detail of the inauguration ceremony, much of the show and the festivity that were the marks of other presidential inductions will be absent. Stands Made Larger.

Work on the stands from which the parade is to be reviewed was accelerated today and the last touches will be given by a small army of carpenters by noon tomorrow. Original plans to have the presidential reviewing stand in front of the White House, a rather small affair, have been altered and workmen buckled down to enlarge it this afternoon.

Bunting and flags, literally tons of them, are appearing throughout the city. The inaugural colors, buff and blue, predominate, and it is expected that by tomorrow afternoon virtually every business building will match the public structures with vari-colored drapings from roof to sidewalk.

Nineteen Governors Expected.

Nineteen governors, or their representatives, will attend the ceremony, according to a revised list made public tonight by the citizens' committee. "Increasing cloudiness and warmer, probably followed by rain," was the way the weather man put it. He gave a bit of hope, however, with respect to temperature, by forecasting "not so cold" tomorrow and "warmer" for Wednesday.

ILLINOISANS ON WAY

Several hundred Illinoisans left Chicago for Washington yesterday to attend the Coolidge-Dawes inauguration tomorrow. Special trains on the Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania carried big parties and every regular train bound for the capital had inauguration visitors as passengers.

The largest party, numbering about 200, was headed by President Alexander Hyde of the Hamilton club and Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling. This party included State Auditor Oscar Nelson, Attorney General Oscar E. Carleton, Republican State Chairman Frank L. Smith, and other political notables. Conspicuous in the crowd

DAWES CALLS ON CAPITAL FRIENDS; STUDIES HIS ROLE

Washington, D. C., March 2.—(Special.)—After calling on old friends at the Treasury building, Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes spent most of today holding informal conferences with friends and studying up on the part he is to play in the ceremonies incident to his inauguration as Vice President next Wednesday.

Two platoons will precede and two follow the vice presidential car to the White House, where Gen. Dawes will join President Coolidge. From the White House the presidential party will proceed to the capitol, where Gen. Dawes will be sworn in.

Mrs. Dawes had tea with Mrs. Coolidge at the White House this afternoon.

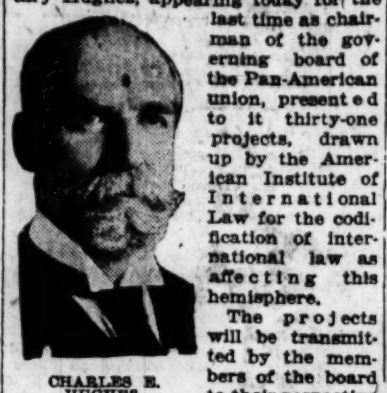

was William G. Edens, vice president of the Central Trust company, who has been a political and banking associate of Vice President-elect Dawes for many years.

The Illinoisans will maintain headquarters at the Willard hotel. The Hamilton club took its chorus of thirty-six voices.

A party of Wisconsin men passed through Chicago yesterday en route to the inauguration. They were headed by saying: "Wisconsin: Our Governor isn't Here, But We Are." Leading the party were E. H. Miles, mayor of Fort Atkinson, J. O. Van Nordsdale of Milwaukee, and Charles S. Crosse of Stoughton.

He pointed out that the recommendations, besides including "the law universal, contain not a few rules of American origin and adapted to American exigencies."

The projects will be transmitted by the members of the board to their respective governments and will form the basis

WITNESS MISSING, STATE DELAYS KID WEIL TRIAL

For the seventh time the case of Joseph (Yellow Kid) Weil was continued yesterday by Judge Howard Hayes when Sergt. John Curtin requested the case be put over until March 9 because H. I. Kutter of Hamilton, O., failed to appear.

The "Yellow Kid" is alleged to have obtained $37,000 fraudulently from Mr. Kutter.

When Weil appeared in court he was wearing a brand new set of whiskers in a brand new way.

"So far as the use of capital is concerned"—says a Financial Expert in the Chicago Tribune of February 11, 1925—"a cheapening of the product manufactured can be expected only under economies of operation."

The real problem of industry today is not "who owns the capital invested?" but "how is the capital operated?"

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) invites judgment based upon its operation of capital.

This Company's ideal of service is founded upon sound economies of management. It believes that rigid economy alone can enable the Company to manufacture and sell its products at a price which will allow people in all circumstances to use them in increasing quantities.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes that capital should be used for the benefit of the greatest number of people—that oil products should be made available to all—that the price of these products must be held down to permit their universal enjoyment.

An oil field is something created by nature—but nature is no economist. She places her products where she finds conditions favorable, with no thought for man's convenience.

Generally oil is found in remote regions—discovered after great risk and rendered accessible and usable only through heavy expenditures of money, and the application of experience, ingenuity, foresight and thrift in the management of industry.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) refines this oil into a multitude of products, which it distributes so widely as to make them of universal benefit to humanity.

The basis of this service is economy. It is a wise economy, too, which from long and seasoned experience dictates when to spend and when not to spend. Thrift rules and waste is not tolerated.

Through this fundamental service the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) operates the capital of its stockholders in such a way as to increase and extend its power to serve humanity.

Stop Cold Now

Hot Lemonade Will Do It

IF you feel a cold coming on, stop it immediately with an old-fashioned hot lemonade.

Don't wait until it is too late. As soon as the tell-tale sneezing starts or you feel "chilly," take a warm bath and get right into bed with plenty of warm covers.

Then drink a large glass of hot lemonade. Drink it as hot as you can stand it. See how much better you feel in the morning.

The effectiveness of hot lemonade in the prevention or treatment of a cold is due to more than heat.

The influenza epidemic proved to thousands the efficiency of this simple, pleasant method. You, too, will profit from this practice whenever you feel a cold coming on.

The time to act is when you first suspect a cold—don't wait for chills and fever. Do it now. Just squeeze the juice of a lemon in glass or cup of hot water. Add sugar if you wish.

California lemons make the best lemonade. They are practically seedless, tart and heavy with acid juice. Buy them at any first-class store. Try the "hot lemonade way" tonight.

What to Do For A Persistent Cough

Everybody knows how foolish and dangerous it is to let a cough hang on and on. The proper thing to do is to stop it—quick—and for this purpose there is nothing better than that great old home remedy that our parents and grandparents used so successfully—Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. It often relieves a severe cough overnight. Doctors say there is really nothing like pine tar to quickly loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste but helps soothe the soreness and irritation.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey and not some substitute. Dr. Bell's is the original, and has been known for many years as the best. It is a scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting ingredients, which the best doctors have found to aid in bringing quick relief. Containing no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—fine for spasmodic croup. If you want the best home remedy in the drug store, get Dr. Bell's. See it at all good druggists.

CLARK, PIONEER COPPER KING AND SENATOR, IS DEAD

New York, March 2.—(Special.)—Ex-Senator William A. Clark, 86 years of age, last of the Montana copper "kings," and rated as one of the richest men in the world, died tonight at his 5th avenue mansion. He was a victim of pneumonia. His death came at 7:30 o'clock, within twenty-four hours of the announcement that his daughter, Mrs. Mary Clark Kling, had become the secret bride of Marius De Brabant of Los Angeles.

Mr. Clark had been ill only a few days. When the end came he was surrounded by his family. He died in the magnificent home where he had amassed an art collection valued at $3,000,000, to which he admitted the public occasionally.

Last of Pioneer Group.
Farmer's boy, school teacher, law student, miner, prospector, banker, and art collector, Mr. Clark was the last of that picturesque group including Marcus Daly, F. Augustus Heinze and Senator George Hearst, who wrested a fortune from Montana copper.

The industrial and political duel between Clark and Daly, the former a calculating fighter and the latter a rough, blustering man, owner of the famous Anaconda mine, made early history in Montana. Daly twice blocked Clark's attempts to enter the United States senate.

Born on a farm near Connellville, Pa., on Jan. 8, 1839, young Clark's family moved to Iowa when he was 17. He drifted to Walla Walla, Wash., bought a large supply of tobacco, and transported it by ox team to Montana, where he sold it at a good profit.

All He Touched Became Gold.

Between 1863 and 1875 Clark was in Montana. He engaged in merchandising, a newspaper, and a bank, and was one of the first to recognize the possibilities of copper when it was found in Butte in 1875.

Clark made money fast, and by 1884 he was rated a millionaire. His fortune increased so rapidly that he was continually reinvesting it. His famous United Verde mine in Arizona gave him a net profit of $400,000 a month. In 1898 he had refused a cash offer of $50,000,000 from the Rothschilds for the property.

When Homes are Built at Braeside

When homes are built at Braeside, when landscape architects and engineers have finished their work on the winding drives and the spacious home sites, Braeside will still possess the tall forest trees and primitive natural beauty that so many residential communities have lost.

Situated in Highland Park, three blocks west of the Lake, one block west of Sheridan Road and within a block of the Chicago & Northwestern and North Shore line stations, Braeside has for years remained the property of an estate. From its point of vantage one hundred feet above Lake level this tract of rolling, wooded land has a delightful view of the beautiful Skokie Valley, and of the surrounding homes and gardens.

In this stretch of wooded land, once, as many old residents remember, a favorite spot for shooting deer, even now are standing the oddly shaped trees that when mere saplings were bent to mark old Indian trails.

The development of Braeside as a community where fine homes may be built, has not been permitted to encroach upon the natural beauty of this rare location, and the result has been the creation of a community which in natural beauty, careful and artistic planning, in its rigid protective and exclusive restrictions is unsurpassed, we believe unequaled by anything obtainable on the North Shore.

Much of the work of preparing Braeside for residences has been completed, sidewalks, sewer, water, gas and electricity have been installed and paid for, contracts have been let for the concrete streets to be completed this spring, and we will soon begin construction of a number of homes of rare architectural beauty.

Residents at Braeside will have none of the inconvenience to which they would be subjected in the ordinary suburban community. No home site is more than three blocks from the stations, and there are sidewalks every foot of the way.

Downtown Chicago is reached in thirty-five minutes from Braeside; golf courses and beaches are nearby, and Ravinia Park adjoins the property on the North.

Those who know the North Shore will appreciate the scarcity of sites comparable to these, and know that what few remain available are held at prices considerably higher than at Braeside.

Braeside home sites will not be offered for purchase until sometime in March, and further information will appear in this paper before that time, but if your building plans require immediate action advance information will be sent to you. Simply write to—

POLITICAL POT IN GERMANY IS BOILING OVER

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright 1925 By The Chicago Tribune.)

BERLIN, March 2.—"Where is a man willing to be president of Germany and strong enough to save the country from the tidal wave of monarchism threatening the republic?" is the question looming in the minds of all republicans in Germany on the eve of the funeral of Germany's first president, who lies in state at the German white house. Wednesday his earthly remains will be taken to the small town of Heideberg, on the Rhine, where President Ebert was born, the son of a tailor, in a narrow, winding street.

Political Factions Busy.
Even in face of death, the political factions are whetting the edges of their swords and daggers for the presidential campaign, and the names of possible candidates thrown in the discussion today were legion. They are so numerous that the ballots cast in the New York Democratic convention last summer seem, in political arithmetic, in exquisite simplicity in comparison.

Besides the Hohenzollerns and Wittelsbach crown princes, Field Marshals von Hindenburg and von Mackensen and Admiral von Tirpitz are among the candidates. The husband of an American woman also is on the list. Count Hugo von Lerchenfeld, former minister of foreign affairs, husband of Edith Louise Wyman of Detroit. Dr. Hugo Eckener, who flew the Zepplin Z. R. 3 to America, also was in the limelight, but he already has refused.

Bolsheviks Present a Woman.
The true revolutionists and believers in bolshevism are presenting a woman, offering Clara Zetkin, militant communist. Despite her advanced age she spent most of the last three years in Moscow and consequently is irreluctant in the eyes of the communists.

A serious effort is being made to crystallize the presidential campaign around two outstanding men, a representative of the conservative bourgeoisie and a representative of the republican bourgeoisie, supported by the Socialists.

For this purpose the monarchists are making desperate efforts to unite their friends and partisans. The Nationalists and super-Nationalists are endeavoring to cement an alliance with Herr Stresemann's party, and the whole group besiege the Catholic center to join and vote for an "ideal monarchic candidate." They want to present Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, whom the former kaiser has authorized to run as "regent."

Republicans Favor Marx.
The republicans, in turn, are appealing to the followers to unite on a candidate, together with the Socialistic party. They also are trying to induce the Centerists to join their camp and to insure this they asked former Chancellor Marx to be a candidate for their parties. Herr Marx refused to discuss the matter "while the nation is still in deep mourning for the loss of a great son." Nevertheless, it is believed that Herr Marx will play a most important part in history in the immediate future.

STANDARD OIL BUYS KEROSENE FROM RUSSIANS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, March 2.—A contract was signed this afternoon between the Anglo-American Oil company, which is the European organization of the Standard Oil company, and the Soviet government by which the Anglo company purchases 150,000 tons of kerosene and 20,000 of gasoline and secures an option on 500,000 tons with delivery in 1926-1927.

The oil will come from the Baku and Grozny fields, both of which are now worked by the Soviets. This deal marks the entry of America into the struggle for Russian oil, which has been going on since April 5, 1923, when the Shell Oil company made a first purchase from the Soviets of 200,000 tons. Shortly after a German company bought 55,000 tons of gasoline and 60,000 of lubricating oil and the French government bought 75,000 tons of fuel for the navy, while French industry bought 145,000 tons of gasoline and 70,000 tons of lubricating.

Next in line was the Italian government and industry, buying 120,000 tons of fuel and 55,000 tons of gasoline. Ten months ago the British Mexican Eagle company, through Lord Inverforth, signed an agreement for the delivery of 200,000 tons of fuel and the British Fuel and Oil company bought 25,000 tons of lubricating oil.

The entry of America into the field now completes the ring of big oil using nations, all competing for Russian oil, which it is stated is being produced in increasing quantities daily.

Yellow Cab wants all Chicago to become customer-owners

During the 16 years we have been in the cab business in Chicago, we have had two great objectives in mind. First—to rescue the cab business from the mud and establish a high-class industry worthy of public confidence and esteem. Second—to have our employees own enough of the stock to give them the much-desired ownership interest.

We have done everything we know how to bring this about. Through newspaper advertisements, designed to cement your confidence and good-will, we have kept you advised of our progress, step by step. So that the whole history of the Yellow Cab has been an open book. Not a solitary misstatement has been made, and nothing has been concealed.

Nothing but this kind of a policy could possibly have been followed when you consider the prominent and public-spirited Chicago men who have lent their names, their counsels and efforts to Yellow Cab's Board of Directors.

We feel that we have made good. We know that we have created, and now operate, the best and most successful cab service in the world—for your use and the use of the thousands of visitors to Chicago.

Yellow Cab has paid dividends from its beginning. Every year of its life, the net earnings have been greater than those of the preceding year. And we feel that there is no limit to the increased business of the future.

And now we want you all to become customer-owners in this successful industry. We want you to share in the profits of Yellow Cab which you have helped to build up. We regard it as your right.

5,000 of our employees own 90,000 shares of our stock, or 22% of the total capital stock of 400,000 shares. 7,770 other citizens own the rest. We are anxious to add 25,000 or 30,000 more stockholders—especially amongst the cab-riding public who, besides giving us the preference because of our national superiority, will be riding in their own cabs.

To accomplish this, we will make it easy for you to own stock in Yellow Cab. We ourselves have no stock for sale, but we will buy it for you at the market price on the Chicago or New York Stock Exchanges, and use our credit at the bank to carry it for you while you are paying for it on monthly payments—$5 per share down and $3 per share per month thereafter until paid for. Dividends will be paid you monthly while you are paying for the stock.

This investment will pay you almost 8%, as contrasted with the usual savings-return of 3%, with the great possibility of an increase in value.

Talk to our drivers when you ride with them. Ask them why they have been investing all of their money in Yellow Cab stock for the past 10 years.

Eisenstadt Incomparable Pens

—give you what no other pens do

A new principle of pen construction
A new standard of pen manufacture

MECHANICALLY it is the nearest fool-proof that has ever been built. A child could play with it all day and not get it out of order. Artistically its graceful lines, beautiful tooling, rich and everlasting finish place it in a class far above any pen that has ever been offered. Practically there is no other pen that responds as spontaneously, holds more ink, writes as many words with one filling, protects absolutely against leakage under any condition, and tires the hand less under long writing strain. The Eisenstadt Incomparable Pen is incomparable—it is perfect.

TRY THIS REMARKABLE TEST YOURSELF
The Eisenstadt Incomparable Pen is the ONLY pen that compresses from back to front fully expelling the air and allowing the ink to fill to its maximum capacity. Other pens compress from front to back leaving an air pocket, which never fills with ink and allows only a short writing life before refilling is necessary.

Why does it hold more ink than others?

It is made upon an entirely different principle of construction than any other pen on the market. See the diagram above for explanation of this principle, and try out the test yourself to prove it. How can a pen hold a maximum quantity of ink when it is half filled with air? The Eisenstadt Incomparable Pen is the only pen that gives complete compression when the pressure bar is down, and consequently gives a full ink capacity when the pressure bar is up. That is why it holds more ink than any other sack pen.

That is why it responds instantly every day to the busy executive's demands for thirty full days without refilling. That is the reason why it is sold as no other pen can or dare be sold—on a word capacity basis.

But the word capacity of the Eisenstadt Incomparable Pen is not the only one thing that makes it supreme.

KURDISH REBELS RENEW WAR ON THREE FRONTS

Turkish Premier Assails Opposition Party.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright, 1925, By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, March 2.—Ambassador Lord Crewe called on Premier Herriot this evening and presented a request from the British government to know what France means by permitting the Kurds to use the French government railways for the transportation of troops for the suppression of the Kurdish revolt.

Premier Herriot, considerably astonished at such a move, according to Turkish news, told Lord Crewe the French government could not refuse to allow the Kurds to use the railway for the purposes of their own internal administration and the preservation of order within their own territories.

Assures England of Friendship.
Premier Herriot assured Lord Crewe that if France had considered England a party to the present war in Asia Minor no permission would have been given for the use of the Syrian railways for transport.

Lord Crewe then declared the British government was not interested in the Turkish war in any way, but had been informed that the Kurds intended to hit at England—and Mosul—through the Kurds. Asked what France would do if the Kurds went farther after crushing the Kurdish revolt, Premier Herriot asserted the French would maintain friendship with England in any such contingency by closing the railways to the Kurds, but under the present conditions France has no means of satisfying the British wishes.

The Kurds have been accusing the British of fomenting the revolt in Kurdistan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 2.—The Kurdish rebels have started on the warpath again. The government admits today that one of Sheikh Said's columns is fighting at Silvan, near Diarbekir; another column has gone almost as far east as Mush, and another as far northwest as Chemishgözü, which is twenty miles from Khosht.

BADGER G. O. P. REGULARS GIRD FOR Foe IN 1926

Oshkosh, Wis., March 2.—Organizing with enthusiasm, with the avowed purpose of "redeeming Wisconsin," about 900 regular Wisconsin Republicans at a statewide conference here today voted to endorse fully the platform of the national Republican party and strongly commended President Coolidge for his effort to secure economy and efficiency in the national government and reduce the burden of federal taxation.

With practically every county in the state represented, definite steps were taken for unification of the regular Republican forces throughout the state for the purpose of holding a representative Republican political convention in 1926 for the nomination of candidates to run for state and congressional office in opposition to the so-called La Follette machine.

One of the most important features of the sessions was the adoption of a resolution introduced by the delegation from the Second congressional district endorsing the Republican organization in congress for the stand taken in refusing to recognize as Republicans those who affiliated themselves with the third party movement.

The keynote address of the conference, held under the auspices of the Sixth District Republican club, was presented by William Lloyd Harding, ex-governor of Iowa, who took the place of former Gov. Edwin P. Morrow of Kentucky, who was prevented from attending by sudden illness.

Mr. Harding spoke of government by party rule and declared it was the best system thus far devised. He declared vigorously that candidates should be compelled to use their true designations and not court favor under the banner of others.

For the last eight years Mr. Bates had been confidential secretary and chief clerk to Edward J. Brundage.

CALLS HUSBAND OLD DEAR, BUT ASKS FOR DIVORCE

(Picture on back page.)
Mrs. Marion Luce Blackford, 460 Barry avenue, will be given a divorce in Judge G. F. Rush's court from Howard P. Blackford, it was indicated.

Blackford did not contest the suit and he will not be required to pay alimony. Mrs. Frank Melville Luce, Mrs. Blackford's mother, told the court she could take care of her daughter.

Mrs. Blackford charged her husband with extreme cruelty, saying he often struck her and cursed her.

"Howard is an old dear, and I still love him," she said outside of court, "but he thinks he's a little Napoleon of finance and when his deals go wrong he is unbearable."

"He's very well educated and clever. He wrote three of the Black Friars' operas before he was graduated from the University of Chicago."

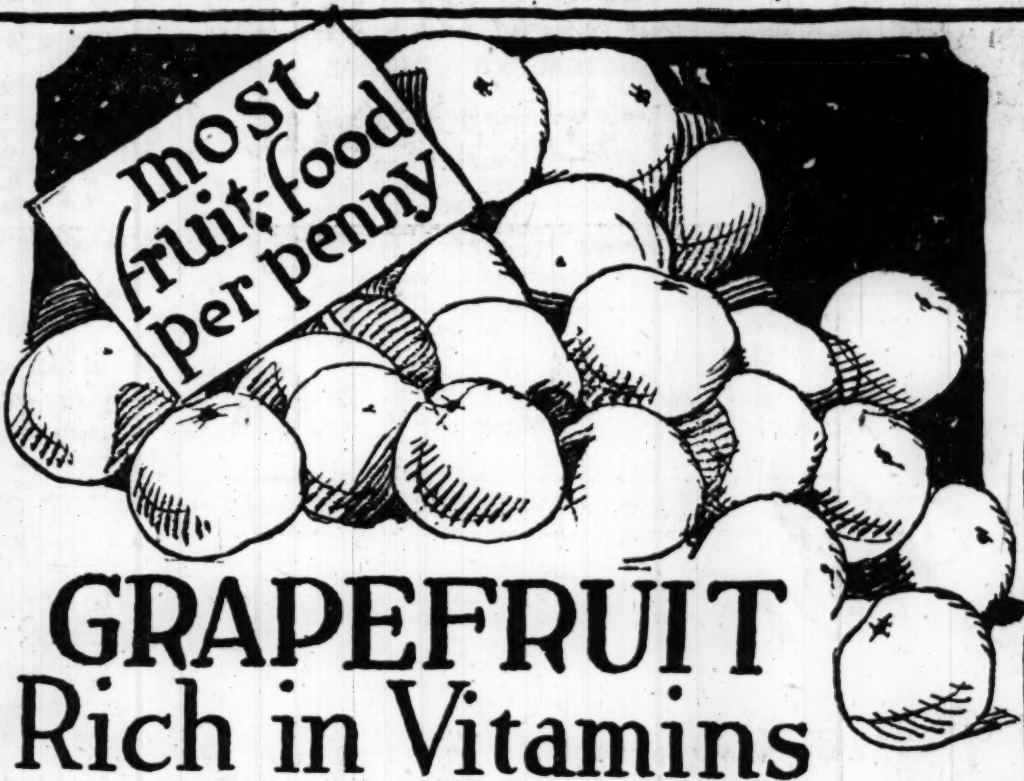

Mrs. Blackford is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. During the war she was assistant director of publicity for the Liberty Loan campaigns.

Mrs. H. C. Gelman, 7121 Clyde Street, ordered this Tribune Want Ad inserted on October 19th and 21st:

TO RENT—TO RESPONSIBLE ADULTS, smiling, Nov. 1 to Apr. 1, best, for 5 rm. apt. South Shore dist.; 2 blocks Bryn Mawr, I. C. Fairfax 2209.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

Offers

ONE MILLION INSURANCE POLICIES

The Most Sensational Insurance Bargain Ever Offered!

A $7,500 Insurance Policy for Every Tribune Reader.

This amazing offer is open to everyone between the ages of 10 and 70, including policemen, firemen, street car, "L," bus and taxicab employees, workers in all trades and offices, city employees and employees of The Chicago Tribune and all other newspapers. It does not matter where you live. No Physical Examination necessary.

And you do not have to subscribe to The Tribune to get a policy! Just send the application and $1.00 registration fee and you will be insured.

The Chicago Tribune is not in the insurance business. Neither is it in the premium business. Its business is to publish a good newspaper and to sell it to people who want to buy it SOLELY to read it. But The Tribune has determined that, if the public is to secure insurance policies through newspapers, the readers of The Tribune are entitled to more insurance, better insurance, and greater protection than can be obtained anywhere else.

The Tribune has, therefore, made a special arrangement with The Federal Life Insurance Company, a Chicago company, established for more than 25 years, and having assets of over Seven Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars, through which The Tribune is able to offer to its readers ONE MILLION INSURANCE POLICIES—prepared expressly for readers of The Chicago Tribune and not obtainable from any other newspaper or any insurance company.

Each is a $7,500.00 Insurance Policy—the broadest of its kind ever issued. All that you have to do to get one of these policies is to be a reader of The Chicago Daily Tribune and pay the small registration fee of $1.00. All other expenses for issuing this policy are paid by The Tribune. You can renew your policy for another year by the payment of the same small registration fee. Its value will increase 10% on renewal.

Simply mail the application at the right to The Tribune. Upon receipt of it, you will be sent a $7,500.00 Insurance Policy FULLY PAID UP FOR ONE YEAR. Only one policy will be issued to any one person. However, each person in a family is entitled to one policy.

Following are a few of the features revealed in a comparison between the policies offered by other newspapers (for which you pay 50 cents and at least $10.80 a year for the newspaper) and the policy issued to readers of The Chicago Daily Tribune.

1. POLICIES OF OTHER NEWSPAPERS OFFER ONLY $1,000

"for loss of life sustained by the wrecking of a taxicab, public omnibus, or automobile stage, which is being driven or operated at the time of such wrecking by a licensed driver plying for public hire and in which the Insured is traveling as a fare paying passenger."

THE TRIBUNE'S POLICY PAYS $7,500

"for loss of life sustained by the wrecking or disablement of any passenger vehicle or passenger car operated by a common carrier in or on which the Insured is traveling." (Note that this includes street cars, "L" trains, busses, railroads, taxicabs, subways, etc.)

2. Under policies offered by other newspapers the Insured, in most instances, must be a "fare paying passenger." This eliminates all employees of street cars, elevateds, busses, taxicabs, etc., while on duty, or while traveling free.

The Tribune's policy covers you whether you are a "fare paying passenger" or not, or whether you are an employee on duty or off duty, traveling on a pass or paying fare.

3. Other policies offer weekly indemnity of $7.50 per week for only 7 weeks.

The Tribune's policy pays weekly indemnity of $10.00 a week for 15 weeks.

Note that in some instances The Tribune's policy offers nearly 10 times as much insurance as is contained in other policies. Be protected! Take advantage of The Tribune's liberal offer. Mail the application and $1.00 registration fee and a $7,500.00 insurance policy will be sent to you.

What The Tribune's Insurance Policy Pays:

BADGER GAME ON INDIAN PRINCE RETOLD IN COURT

'Irate Husband' Testifies in $700,000 Blackmail.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, March 2.—The sensational story of the "world's greatest blackmail plot" was revived today in the historic Old Bailey when W. C. Hobbs went on trial for his connection with a gigantic badger game in which Sir Hari Singh, nephew and heir to the maharajah of Kashmir, was forced to sign two checks, each for $150,000 (roughly $700,000) to hush the scandal. One of the checks, however, was not cashed.

Justice Avey, the jury, which includes two women, and the crowded courtroom heard a review of the amazing tale of how the rich and handsome young Indian potentate was trapped in a Paris hotel with Maude Robinson, the comely young wife of Charles Robinson, an English gambler and book maker, and then signed two blank checks to escape the loss of his Indian throne.

Sir Hari's Bank Accounts.
The gray bearded and stout Hobbs, aged 65 and dapperly dressed, who is charged with conspiracy to defraud Sir Hari, pleaded not guilty in ringing tones.

Traver S. Humphreys, the crown counsel, outlined the case in a long speech and then called his star witness, Montague Noel Newton, who impersonated the traitor husband when Mrs. Robinson was found with Sir Hari.

Newton held the spotlight most of the afternoon. He referred to Sir Hari as "the nigger" when relating the bedroom incident, and he revealed the fact that Sir Hari, or "Mr. A," as he was known, had an idle spending account in a London bank of $150,000 ($300,000) and $200,000 ($400,000) in an Indian bank.

No Shock to Newton.
The crown counsel told the court that Newton was a man of bad character who lived by his wits; that he had been convicted of forgery in 1907 and therefore the prosecution did not ask for any hurry in accepting his statements as the truth unless they were corroborated.

Asked if the proposal to impersonate Robinson came as a shock to him, Newton said:

"I am beyond shocks."

The "Mr. A" stories are again the leading topic in the London papers, which are printing columns.

HOLD HEARINGS ON IMPORTANT PENDING BILLS

Legislature Will Seek Public Views.

BY PARKE BROWN.
Springfield, Ill., March 2.—[Special.]—Two important hearings, the first of the present session of the general assembly, will be held before committees of the house tomorrow and Wednesday.

The committee on judiciary will hear evidence on the anti-injunction bill introduced by Representative R. G. Sodestrom of Streator. Both the labor unions and the employers probably will be represented.

The bill seeks to prohibit courts from issuing restraining orders or injunctions in disputes concerning terms or conditions of employment unless necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property or property rights. It provides that cases arising out of labor contracts or to maintain peace or punish violators thereof must be brought in courts of law.

On Wednesday the same committee will hold a hearing on the four anti-gambling bills introduced in the house. They are the following:

By Lyon, to limit issuance of deadly weapon permits to chief of police in cities and to sheriffs in territory outside of cities.

By Chynoweth, to limit issuance of permits to county judges, to require purchasers to have permit in advance, and to bond dealers.

By Thon, to limit issuance of permits to county judges.

By Phillips, to authorize issuance of permits by police magistrates, chiefs of police, and county judges.

The senate will hold no business sessions this week, an adjournment having been taken over inauguration week.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat diseases and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. ## MAY WHEAT HITS $2.02, THEN SLIPS CORN CLOSES OFF

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Two dollars for May wheat became an actuality yesterday. May selling up to $2.02 at the extreme top, but the market was decidedly unsettled, and apparently the trade was not yet ready to accept such a figure. Opening as high as $2.02, May quickly dropped to $1.98, only to jump to $2.02 on general buying, and break to $1.96 at the close, finishing at that figure to $1.97, with a net loss of 3c. July was 15c lower at $1.70, and $1.70, after selling at $1.74 on the bulge, a new high at $1.74, while September was unchanged at $1.53 1/2 @ 1.54.

The action of wheat had considerable influence on corn, which closed 1/4c lower, after July sold early at $1.35 1/2, or within 1/4c of the best figure of the season. The close was with May at $1.33 1/2, July at $1.35 1/2, and September at $1.33 1/2. Oats were off 1/4c and rye 2 1/2c, the latter showing independent weakness.

Big Trade on Wheat

A big trade was in wheat with outside interest in the July selling. A material increase, but there was a heavy profit taking by longs in all deliveries. They felt the upturn of 24c/5c in a little over two weeks was sufficient for the time, especially as foreign markets failed to respond to the upturn in America. Saturday, Liverpool gaining 1 1/2d, while Buenos Aires was unchanged to 1/2c higher.

The easier tone abroad was on bearish foreign statistics. Private reports on farm reserves ranged from 112,000,000 to 121,000,000 bu, with an average of 116,000,000 bu, compared with 135,000,000 bu last year, and were as expected. An average of the three estimates on total holdings in all positions, including farm reserves, country mill and elevator stocks and the commercial viable was 271,640,000 bu, or 27,000,000 bu less than last year, and was also as expected. Visible supply decreased 1,915,000 bu for the week, whereas a reduction of 2,000,000 to 2,400,000 bu had been looked for, and the total is 70,677,000 bu, against 64,072,000 bu last year.

Cold weather without snow protection over the greater part of the winter wheat belt attracted some attention. Murray's report made condition 79, against an average of around 83, but experts generally feel that it is too early to give authoritative forecasts as to the outlook at this season.

Sentiment Bullish in Corn

Sentiment in corn has become decidedly bullish in some quarters and the market showed a firm undertone the greater part of the day, although reacting from the top on profit taking and in sympathy with wheat. A leading local house put out a bullish summary of the situation and claimed there were indications of a better eastern demand. Low grades in the sample market, however, were off as much as 2c as compared with May. Estimates on farm reserves ranged from 775,000,000 to 880,000,000 bu, with an average of 825,000,000 bu, compared with 1,153,000,000 bu last year. Visible supply increased 672,000 bu and is 32,292,000 bu, against 13,894,000 bu last year. Oats were firmer early with corn and on buying by several strong commission houses on reports of a better cash demand, an Omaha house claiming 600,000 bu had been sold to the south. The market declined sharply toward the last, as the estimate on farm reserves was construed as bearish, ranging from 563,000,000 to 59,000,000 bu, with an average of 542,000,000 bu, against 447,000,000 bu last year.

Rye Closes Weak

Reports that Germany was trying to recall rye at low prices caused independent weakness in that grain. Little was heard regarding export business. Lard closed 2 1/2c higher, at 25 1/2c, and bellies 50c/5c higher, the continued advance in hog prices at the yards being a factor. Deliveries on March contracts were 250,000 lbs. Price follows:
